LOCAL NEWS.

THE GRAND DISPLAY LAST RIGHT. Last night Washington was ablaze with glory. The very heavns seemed to have come down, and the stars twinkled in a sert of faded way, as if the solar symm was out of order, and earth had become the great lami-nary. Everybody illuminated. Every flag was flung out, windows were gay with many devices, and gorgeous lanter and anced on their ropes along the walls in a fantastic way, as if the fairies were holding holiday inside. The streets began to fill up at an early hour. leng before night a tide of reople set strongly to-wards the Avenue, increasing to strengto, un-til at fark the latter was a sea of life and naimation, swallowing up the endless streams met poured in from adjacent streets, and making queer eddies at the corners, in which, at times, a knot of distracted pedestrians would whirl as if lost altogether. There seemed to be no regular hour for lighting up, every one applying the match as salted him best. Some then throwing them open suddenly. revealed a seems of darking brilliancy. By 7 polocia, bewever, the lights were all blazing, and the avenue and 7th street crowded as

The second of the street crowded as a present the avenue and 7th street crowded as a present the avenue and 7th street crowded as a present the avenue and 7th street crowded as the second of the sec darkness of the sarrounding it it.

Across the Ference the arrington House stemped like a clar through the dark tree tops, and was up on the heigh beyond the Navy Yard the asylum gleaned in its beauty and condens of the beauty and condens of place and as distincted as seemed out of place and as distincted as seemed out of place and as distincted as sever, where buildings were instanced with rare skill, and by the content of the property a lorded a relief to the content of the principal streets lighted up, and out to the principal streets lighted up, and out to the substrate was also and as substrated up, and out to the substrate was a locally wrong from its and paster a pittage for the day, and in the day light of its header flumination joined as

The City Esti was a centre of light from hich all the brilliancy of the city seemed to date. Decry window was a sheet of flame, one of flame, and est having no less than sixty candies heach, while notices the front, devices in gas the fared and flashed in the wildest manner. Imm diately in facts of the centre column the word "Union" in large characters, formed of the light, was above at immense blazing star. Across the front of the west wing "Grant" was displayed in so sally large characters, and Across the front of the west wing "Grant" was displayed in estably large characters, and "Szerman" blass! from the front of the east wing. On the tall faggital a brilliant lantern beaued lize a serious and all around from the many windows and thight poured out upon the park. Not be than two thousand lights was employed in the Bramination of the building, and their arrangement did credit to the tasts of those having it in charge.

The Post Office was finely illuminated, near-light the windows being filled with candles.

The state of the windows being filled with candles. Fings were displayed from the south front, and over the entrance was placed a bandsome transparency, the work of Mr. M. T. Parker,) representing a confier with the U. S. Mail, shorting, "Beloid I bring you good tidings of great joy," and dashing atturious speed past a Man Fork, and on the other, U miles to Dixie. It was be gratifying to the curious to know that the Post Office building had 195 windows Hiswigsbed, which, wi han average of fifteen light in each window, required over 3,500

The Patent Office presented a grand spectacle, having so less than 230 windows illuminated, with 24 lights in each, making in all nearly the lights. Across the south front the word "Union" was formed of gas jets, beneath a million: arch, illuminating the surroundings at brilliantly. The fine band of Harewood serpital was stationed on the portico at early hoar, and attracted by its music an immense throng, which remained listening to the national sirs and other spirited pieces until the illu-

The Metropolitan Hotel displayed over three bundred lanterns, and the National, Clarendon, Central, United States, and American Hotels, and the Avenue and Seaton Houses, were all brilliantly lighted up.

ON THE AVENUE, The stores and dwellings presented a scene of brilliancy never before witnessed in this city. but especially along the central portions, where the opportunities for display were greatest, the citizens vied with each other in making the most brilliant and imposing display, the illumination of the hovels lending much to the magnificence of the scene. Over the main entrance of Willard's was a semi-circle of gas ets, forming the word "Union" in letters of ight. The splendid stores of Hudson Taylor, lilp & Solomon, Wall & Stephens, Boteler . M. Willian, and their immediate neighn their preparations, were as attractive as the most costly dwellings. The display between 11th and 12th streets was very beautiful, incinding the stores from S. C. Ford's drug store to the Kirkwood House, and the dwellings over them. The Kirkwood House made a very handsome appearance, with entire avenue and 12th street fronts brilliantly illuminated. From 12th to 13th streets was another magnificent display, and especially of the store rooms, where hundreds were admiring the decorations of Gautier, Stinemetz, Hughes and their neighbors, whose stores were illuminated and decorated within and without. From the avenue Grover's Theatre made a most splendid appearance. The Manager had taken considerable pains to secure ornamental flags suitable to the occasion, which were displayed with transparencies bearing the appropristive inscription "Victory! Peace! Union," amid a blaze of light. The restaurants east of the Theatre were brilliantly illuminated, and also the office of the Constitutional Union, where we thought we saw an arrangement of candles forming the badge of the gallant 6th army corps, The Union building west of the Theatre and the buildings to 14th street were generally illuminated. Beyond Willard's Hotel was also a teautiful display of lights and banners from the Owen's building, with the stores and office rooms adjoi ing, Hammack's restaurant building were splendidly illuminated and much

The clothing store of E. L. Seldner, corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 7th street, was very brilliant, and attracted great attention by its query in gas jets, "How are you, Lee." magnificent Jewelry establishment of Galt & Bro., was grandly illuminated, as were also be stores of Noah Walker, Wm. Crosse, Moron, H. Burns, Wiesenfield & Co., E. Z. ever, the Congressional Globe office, Bell's otograph gallery, Mrs. Hough's and Mrs. Fitzgerald's houses, and other places. Adams Express office was brilliantly lighted up, and the employees further celebrated by building a

The display on the south side of the Avenue vied with that on the north in brilliancy. We a brilliant display. Messrs. J. W. Thompson & Co., on Pennsylvania avenue, near 11th street, had the upper part of their establishment brilliantly lit up with candles, and the lower part with gas, while in the center of the building was a large transparency, with the name of "Grant," and also the fine silk flag ander which the National Rifles, with which the janior member of the firm (Mr. Shepherd) served, were mustered into service in April, 1861. The Star Office, Emerich's European Hotel, Metzerott's Music Store, and Metropo litan Hall, in the Star Buildings, made a brilliant display. Lowenthal & Co., opposite Willards', had a number of inscriptions, concluding with the significant one, "How are you Johnny Bully!" Hancock's Restaurant you Johnny Bully!" Hancock's Restaurant attracted much attention by the beauty of its decorations, and had the inscriptions, "Union Forever;" "Our Country is Saved, we are Free," with pictures of Grant and Lincoln. Amongst others, T. W. Mitchell, plumber, "The Homestead" Restaurant, "Oyster Bay," Russell's Restaurant, (very handsome,) Potential Chapatt's New Orleans Restaurant rant, A. Buchly, C.N. Drew, Delayan House, ord, Wall & Co., W. B. Lewis, J. B. Barthoe display,) Prince George Restaurant, Gregory, Sionsa and Ennis, J. B. Wilson, Jackson & Bros., Parcell & Son, Anderson's saloon, Guerretor's restaurant, Central Hotel,

Clarendon. T. Thompson, plumber and gas fitter, with jets of gas forming the word

Ebening Star.

VOL. XXV.

WASHINGTON, D. C., FRIDAY, APRIL 14, 1865:

Nº. 3,782.

Beall, Keystone House, C. Christoni, Hotel Gerhardt, Western Hotel, S. H. Bacon, Concert Beell, Keystone Holes, C. Caristoni, Hotel Gerhardt, Western Holes, S. H. Bacon, Concert Mall, You and Dennison, Harnden Express, Melicer & Bell, Crammelin's Arlington Holes, M. Brushears, S. H. Maynard, W. H. Lee, Mrs. Bannerman, Dr. Scoller, H. Lee, Mrs. Bannerman, Dr. Scoller, Br. Holmes, McDermott's coach factory, Constituting House en D street, near 12th, was beautifully decorated and illuminated, attracting much attention. On the front of the strecting much attention. On the front of the building there was a large "F" in evergreen, and in the centre second story window a beautiful wreath encircling a miniature flag which was presented the company a few days since by Miss Millie Creed, of Oxford Hall. On top of the belfry was a large flag, while from the beak of the eagle on the top of the building a festcon of evergreen hung along the cornice. and from the capulo and windows there were about two dozen pole flags and a myriad of

The American telegraph office made a fine display. The interior was arched over with flags, surmounted by a large eagle, and the whole front of the building was decorated with lanterns, flags and brilliant lights. Bell's photograph establishment displayed the transparency, "Glory to the Union and her brave defenders," and the establishment of E Z. Steever was crnamented by a design in gas jets, brilliantly exhibiting the letters U. S.

above a globe, bearing the word Grant. Beneath the whole was the motto, "The Union forever. Mayor Wallach's residence was very handsomely illuminated, as were also the various offices and private houses in the vicinity, that section of the city presenting an appearance not surpassed by any portion of the illumina-

The Bank of Washington was well lighted up, and displayed a transparency bearing a likeness of Washingtor, and the following sentence from his farewell address: "It is of infinite moment that you should properly estimate the immense value of your national Union to your collective and individual happiness; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various NORTH OF THE AVENUE.

Passing from the avenue north the scene in some of the streets as far as the city is built was truly grand. The displays were not exclusively made by the wealthy residents of magnificent dwellings, but in many instances the ingenuity of the humbler citizens added greatly to the magnificence of the blocks in which they were located. On 9th street we noticed especially the stores under Seaton Hall. The National Union Headquarters. The building formerly Dr. Garnett's, now occupied by Mr. Brown, Navy Agent. The fine double building occupied by S. Masi, in the 2d and 3d stories of which are five windows, and in each was wrought a letter forming in the 3d story across the entire front the word "Union," and in the 2d "peace," and over the main entrance the names "Grant," "Meade." On the oppo-Esq, was very brilliantly displayed. The display above F street was not so connected, but some of the dwellings were very brilliant. The dwelling of Dr. Munson, 9th, near G street, was very tastefully illuminated, exhibiting the red, white and blue, with a very neat arrangement of various colored lights. The residence of Mr. W. Hill near L street, and that of Admiral Joseph Smith, were brilliantly illuminated, displaying a very tasteful arrangement of flags and banners in each. In this vicinity the blocks of fine dwellings on K street, from 7th to 9th, attracted particular attention. These included the dwellings of G. S. Gideon, W. G. Moore, A. C. Richards, Superintendent of Police; A. H. Young, W. Towers, Lucius Peyton and Col. Lem. Towers. At a little distance there was the appearance of a thousand tapers burning, but drawing closer the observer could perceive that the windows were tastefully decked with a multitude of miniature flags. On 9th, near M street, is the dwelling of G. W. Larner and P. McKean, Esqs. The house was beauti. fully illuminated, displaying on the front a very handsome arrangement of flags hung in festoons and fully inclosing the entry, over which was a very attractive transparency design-figures representing war and peace. War stands with her foot upon the rebel flag, unlifting a sword with her right hand, while with her left she clasps the right hand of peace, who appears to follow, offering with her left the olive branch. Inscription, "Victory brings peace." In the front windows of the house were the portraits of Lincoln and Grant, Upon 9th street, the beautifully illuminated dwellings of Hudson Taylor, corner of D, and Lambert Tree, west side, north of D, were much admired.

On 10th street, beginning with the commission house of McGuire & Co., corner of D street, which was brilliantly illuminated, we noticed especially the Metropolitan Police Headquarters and the office of the Gas Light Co., the Public School, corner of D and 10th, and with one or two exceptions, excusable by reasons of recent afflictions, the entire row on the south side of D, between 9th and 10th, including Temperance Hall and the fine dwellings immediately west of it, and Ford's Theater attracted much attention.

On H street, between 9th and 10th, there was a very general display. Among the fine dwellings in this neighborhood is that of J. F. Brown, President Board of Aldermen, which was illuminated beautifully, and decorated with flags tastefully arranged from basement to the roof, and a number of which were brought from Alexandria, the supply in the city having run out before he obtained what he wanted. On the opposite side the Protestant Orphan Asylum was opened and the lights throughout burning, displaying to advantage the flags and evergreens with which the front and windows were tastefully decorated. On New York avenue, west of 10th street, the splendid residences of Messrs. Hood, Bassett, Bryant, Fahnestock, and Professor Baird, of the Smithsonian Institution, were prominent amid the blaze of light and beauty. On Massachusetts avenue, between 10th and 11th, the glare was continued, and especial Litention was called to the dwellings of Messrs. Fuller and Cunningham. On 11th street the display extended with few intervals as far as the buildings extended, and noticeable among the display were the residences of A. Noerr, corner of 11th and E. Smith's Row, between E and F, No. 377, 379, and 381 11th street, occupied by R. J. Atkinson, Auditor of the Treasury, Captain Tempkins, of Quartermaster's Deprrtment, and Mr. Bartlett, were brilliantly illuminated and decked within and without with national flags, State colors, corps emblems, &c.; Mr. Thomas, corner of 11th street and Massachusetts avenue; the dwelling of W. W. Danenhower, corner of 12th and G streets, was remarkable among the dwellings on 12th street, which were generally illuminated. The house was thrown open, the gas lighted throughout, and tapers burning in the windows and lanterns suspended from available point. The transparencies were numerous with the following inscriptions:-South front upper story, large star, "God wills that we remain united," on the right and left of which stars inscribed "Victory, Grant, Sherman, Sheridan;" square transparency "Glory to God on high, on earth peace, good will toward men;" shield, "Lincoln;" west side circles in-scribed "Victory, Union;" square, "One Coun-try, one Constitution, one Destiny;" circles, "All honor to our brave Army," "All honor to our gallant Navy." The house of Mr. Lewis Clephane, on G street, had a fine display in-

On Massachusetts avenue, corner 11th street, and in that vicinity, the display was very beautiful, and the dwellings of Geo. R. Hall, Mrs. Williams, Charles Richardson, Messrs Spalding and Vondilear, attracted much attention. On New York avenue, near 14th street, the dwelling of Col. Haves was beautifully decorated and was generally admired. Brig. Gen. Ekin, chief of the cavalry bureau, Brig. Gen. Ekin, chief of the cavary bureau, occupying the "Chain building" on H, near 14th street, decorated and illuminated the building so tastefully that it was attractive from distant points, and was highly applauded by the multitude of observers who lingered around. The Musical Museum on H, between 13th and 14th streets, was magnificently decorated with flags, and was greatly admired for the tasteful display. The offices of Gen. Augur's headquarters on 14th street, near New York avenue, was very brilliantly illuminated; the front was embellished with large flags tastefully festooned along the entire front; whils the windows exhibited before the lights of smaller flags very nearly averaged. a display of smaller flags very neatly arranged. Upon the cornice extending the entire front was placed a transparency with the inscription: "Sherman, Thomas, Grant, Farragut, Sheridan." The crowd in the street was very great until a late hour.

The vicinity of Franklin Square was mag-nificently displayed. The dwellings south of the square were generally illuminated, the lights being continuous and regular, while the fronts were very neatly adorned with flags, evergreens, lanterns, &c. The splendid man-sions upon the elevation north were magnificent, and the display of fireworks added to the attraction which detained a multitude of ladies and gentlemen admirers of the magnificent display. The beautiful residences of Admiral Goldsborough and Colonel Kent were splendidly ornamented with flags over the beautiful fronts, and the gaslights and tapers burning exhibited the interior to the admiring 'multitude. The mansion of Secretary Stanton exhibited a display of flags of every description in the army beautifully arranged over the extensive front. The national flag was first in the display, and around were the flags and colors of the corps and States who have so nobly sustained it. The mansion illuminated throughout, and the magnificent display of fireworks in front, rendered every flag and color plainly visible from the remotest limit of Franklin Place, where hundreds assembled to honor our brave soldiers and those who, like Secretary Stanton, contributed to their suc-

The residence of Col. Wilson, immediately adjoining that of Secretary Stanton, was magniticently illuminated. The splendid projectng windows were colored with red, white and blue, and upon the panels were inscribed the honored names of victors and their victories, Richmond, Petersburg, Charleston, Vicks. burg, Grant, Sherman, Farragut, Porter, Meade, Sheridan, Fort Mergan, Gettysburg, Savannah, Wilmington," and over all the inscription, "Honor to the brave."

The Rugby House, corner of K and 14th steects, was beautifully illuminated, and a transparency upon the front attracted much attention and was greatly admired. In the day time it looked like a large box covered with a black cloth, upon which was drawn a large star: a circle within the points surround a shield, upon which were clasped hands. When illuminated the design was beautiful. The star appeared in jets of light, the circle, before apparently plain, was a circle of small stars surrounding the shield and hands, all of light, and over all the inscription, "Welcome home discarded faith." The design was very ingeniously executed.

The bookstore of Hudson Taylor, 334 Pennsylvania avenue, had a beautiful display of gas jets lighting up the national flag and fine portraits of Lincoln, Grant and Secretary Stanton The colored population, numerous in the northern pert of the Second and Third wards. were not behind in the general demonstration. Quite a number of the dwellings illuminated were occupied by colored citizens, and away up in the suberbs where the small wooden tenements are occupied by the laboring men. windows could be discerned filled with can-

The establishments of W. R. Sturgis, J. W. Van Hook, G. M. Wight, M. T. Parker, E. Wheeler & Son, E. E. White, Barbour & Semmes and Smith & Morrell, on Louisiana avenue were handsomely illuminated, all of the windows being filled with tissue paper of red, white and blue. The Weodbine Restaurant, corner of 4% and C streets, presented a fine appearance. The residence of Mr. Todd, corner of 3d and C streets, was most brilliantilluminated, the gottic windows filled with candles suspended by means of wires, seeming at a distance like a blaze of fire. Mr. Hall's residence, on the opposite corner, displayed a large flag, and was brilliantly tighted up from basement to roof. Messrs. Blakslee and Van-Anden, corner 5th and H streets, illuminated finely and displayed the transparencies "Just laws promptly executed give stability, security and peace, 'and "How are you Confederacy. The establishment of J M. Moore, on the opposite corner, was lighted up with a great number of lanterns, and had out the transpa-rency, "Stand by the flag," "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and insepa-

Mr. A. R. Shepherd, on 10th street, near L. mode a fine display, every part of his residence showing a brilliant light, and three or four transparencies bearing the names of Grant, Sherman and others appearing.

The book bindery of Captain W. H. Nally, occupying two stories of the building corner of 9th and E streets, was brilliantly lighted up, and from one of the windows was flung a fine flag, which was purchased on the 20th of April, 1861, (the day following that on which the Metropolitan Rifles, commanded by Capt. Nally in the three months service, were mustered in. from a man who was about leaving for Dixie but who could not get away. This flag was horne by the rifles in that campaign and was hoisted on Seneca Bridge on the 9th of June when they were picketing the Potomac.

Hock and Ladder Company, No. 1, [Metropolitan,) had their fine house on Massachusetts avenue brilliantly illuminated, making a handsome appearance. The front was decorated with festoons of evergreen and the portraits of Grant, Sherman and others. This company was not behind any other, and the fine appearance of the house was remarked by all. Postmaster Bowen finely illuminated his residence, as was also that of Mr. J. Little, the Second District school-house, and many other buildings in that locality. The displays upon the principal streets were so numerous that we cannot do more than make a bare mention of those which we hastily noted. Among them were the following: ON SEVENTH STREET.

The rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association were brilliantly illuminated and displayed a transparency with the words "God, Grant, our Country, Peace," Master Otto Wolfstiner, a lad of 10 or 12 years, had in his window a beautiful little transparency, that would have done credit to an experienced artist. On a field of black, "Grant" appeared in brilliant many colored letters, surrounded by a halo of stars, above which was the word "Victory" flanked by "Sherman" and "Sheridan." Under the whole was the motto "Union Forever." C. H. Anderson's book store, opposite the Post office, was very fine, displaying in addition to the elegant decorations of the windows, representations of the Goddess of Liberty, Washington, and the Union army entering Richmond. Wolfsheimer & Bro, brilliantly lighted their establishment, and displayed in the window the following:

Long live our chief, the President, In glory, peace and health; Nobly he brought the war to end, Crushed treason in its wealth. O God! preserve his worthy life, Let never war or civil strife

Again disturb our land.' Heiler & Co. ornamented their windows with Grant, Sherman, Farragut" and "Our Army and Navy." The trunk and harness store of James S. Topham made a fine appearance with he national flag and coat of arms in the windows, as did also the similar establishment of H Beale. Among other displays which attracted much attention were those of J. E. Kennedy, S. Hielbrun & Co., J. D. Edmond, Whittlessey's lamp store, Shepherd's bookstore, S. Ruppert, Markriter's, the Mercantile Exchange, Business Cellege Building, and the

W. B. Robertson, C. F. Cummings & Co., S. Gasch, Jno. W. Clark, S. Kohlberg, Mr. Reese, Mr. Lewis, Dr. J. Scholl, J. F. Harvey, Messrs, Foose, Mr. Selhausen, J. W. Plant, Mr. Crews, T. G. Ford, L. Emrich, Mrs. Phillips, Fred. Gregor, J. E. Behrens, H. Kropp, W. G. Hur-ley, F. Schwing, J. P. Shillen, C. H. Anderson, J. H. Smith, James Lackey, Oak Hall clothing store, Collector's office, U. S. Internal Revenue, New York dye house, Teal, Brown & Co, Robert Leach, J. W. Nairn, Wolfheimer & Bro , Post Office Restaurant, J. Peyse, W. O. Berry, Francis Prott, Holler & Co., Wendell House, Wm. Ballantyne, Chas. Kloman, H. Beall, P. J. Bellew, D. E. Irwin, A. W. Townsend & Co., J. H. Woolley, Gardner, G. T. Smith & Co., Lansburgh & Bro., J. Rosenthal, W. B. Moses, Green & Williams, Israel Deming, J. W. Colley, B. M. Sutton, Ward & Hayes, A. O. Beall & Co., S. Steinmetz, W. Tilley, Herbst & Gerhold, J. F. Neidfelt, John Voegel, T. E. Lloyd.

PIRST WARD.

The display in this ward was exceedingly brilliant, being in a perfect blaze of light from 15th street to the Georgetown bridge. Nearly all of the Departsments and public buildings are situated in this ward, but independent of these the houses of the citizens generally were illuminated. The War Department, as upon former occasions, presented a magnificent appearance, the Star Spangled banner being entwined around the columns of the portico on the northern front, while the various corps flags were profusely displayed from different parts of the building. On the top of the north portico was a transparency with the word "Grant," surmounted with an arch of evergreens, from which was suspended a number of ship lanterns with red, white and blue lights. Drummond lights were stationed on the west and east ends of the building, which radiated for squares around. In the yard, red, white and blue lights were constantly burning, while the bands of the 9th and 24th V. R. regiments discoursed excellent music, attracting an immense crowd of persons to the while a number of colored lanterns and guidons were also displayed. A transparency on the 17th street front bore the inscription of "Our Binnacle Lights Irradiate Glory." Another transparency contained a representation of an eagle, and from its talons was a scroll with the word "Victory." "Our iron-clade, a terror to the nations." A third transparency represented an iron-clad, while a full-rigged man-of-war stationed in one of the windows attracted general attention.

The Navy Bepartment was gorgeously illuminated, and draped with flags on either side,

The Treasury Department building was thoroughly illuminated and tastefully draped with flags. Just above the entrance of the south-eastern portico was a transparency representing a fifty dollar seven-thirty bond handsomely executed, and presenting a brilliant fac-simile of that popular issue. Beneath this was the following inscription: "The note of a free Government, endorsed by a free people, and guaranteed by the power and wealth of the United States." The Department of State presented a decidedly brilliant appearance, every window in the building being fully lighted up. The entrances and porticoes of the building were beautifully festooned with American flags. The Executive Mansion attracted general attention by its magnificent appearance, being radiant with lights, and bandsomely decorated with guidons, cavalry standards, national and camp colors, garrison, storm and corps flags, and evergreens. During the evening a large crowd gathered here, in expectation of hearing the President make a speech, but he did not make his appearance.

Seventeenth street, from F to G streets, (which takes in Winder's Building and a large number of branch offices of the War Department,) was resplendent with light. Gen Halleck's headquarters was brilliantly illuminated, as were also the Surgeon General' office, Gen. Rucker's office, Col. Bell's office,

Capt. Moore's office, and Corcoran's Art Building, which is occupied by Quartermaster General Meigs. The office of Col. B. F. Fisher, chief signal officer, on F street, above 18th street, was beautifully decorated with flags, and the following mottoes were displayed: "God's Providence Visible." "The nation, in its constitutional right, dooms slavery and victory follows;" and "Victory brings peace, and peace the good old times." Capt. Brinkerhoff, Post Quartermaster made a fine display at his office, 232 G street The windows of the second and third stories were shaped with red, white and blue, and in each a corps badge was displayed. Over the entrance was a fine portrait of the President with the following quotation: And Abraham drew near and said. Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked And the Lord said, If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then will I spare al the place for their sakes.—Gen. xviii: 23, 26. Portraits of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan inscribed "Ohio's quota." In one of the lower windows a photograph of Secretary Stanton was displayed, under which was the following: "Not content with dispersing one traitor cabinet in Washington, he evoked and organized the powers of war and dispersed another at Richmond." Meigs, with the letters "Q. M. D," and "Our Chief," and the following from the report of the Secretary of War, March 1st, 1865: "The army bas been well supplied with all the essentials of military equipments, and with fuel, forage, and all necessaries."

Gen. Harding's headquarters, corner 19th street and Pennsylvania avenue; the headquarters of the 1st Brigade Veteran Reserve Corps, adjoining, and Major O'Beirne's office. corner of 18th and I streets, were also brilliantly illuminated. The Clothing Depot, Capt. D. G. Thomas, was gorgeously decorated, a large number of transparencies being hung out, while numberless flags were tastefully hung in front of the building. Evergreen were hung from each window in beautiful wreaths, while transparencies bearing the words, "Richmond," "Petersburg," Charleston," with the names of other places captured. "Victory," "Union," &c. As on the previous occasion, this building attracted great attention, and it was considered by many the best dressed building in the city. Jay Cooke & Co.'s Banking House was finely illuminated, and emblazoned with transparencies, bearing the inscriptions, "Glory to God, who hathto S. Grant-d the victory;" "The Busy Bees-Balls, Ballots, Bonds:" "Response of the loyal people to the cry of traitors-Let us a loan. The Bank of Metropolis, the National Bank of the Metropolis, and the banking houses of Riggs & Co., and Stewart & Co., on 15th street, are fleserving of special mention for the hand-

No 1 Steamer of our fire department, whose house is so arranged as not to permit of a very fine show, brought out their apparatus which was trimmed with evergreens, flowers, flags, &c., and brilliantly lighted up making a fine

some manner in which they were illumina-

The private residences of Gen'l Howe, Gen'l Hoffman, Colonel Hardee, and Colonel Pelouze, all of which are on I street, were magnificent ly illuminated and tastefully bestowed with flags and evergreens, as was also the residence of Mr. S. E. Douglass, City Register, and the county residence of Thomas P. Morgan, of the firm of Morgan & Rhinehardt. It would be impossible for us to mention the names of all those who had their residences and places of business illuminated in this ward the following:-John A Rheem, G. S. Kraft, Reynolds' House, Dr. D. R. Hagner, Dr. S. C. Smoot, D. G. Ridely's drug store, Mrs. Hoyt, W. Allen, C. Witmer, (residence and store,) J B Moore, (residence and store,) W. H. Perkins, Dr. T. F. Joyce, Gen. G. Thomas, J. Guttman's confectionery, Cummuskey's restaurant, Latham's dry goods store, Barry Hart's store, Mc-Graw's restaurant, Major J. M. Farnish, M. J. Redfern, F. Schneider, Mr. Ferguson, Major Miller, Mrs. McDermott, G. T. McClue, Mr. Bouvet, Mrs. Bittner, Dr. Pyne, Col. G. Rhine hart, Major McBlain, Major Smith, R. C. Wood, C. B. Baker, Mr. Burden, W. S. Holiday, G. S. Gallagher, Com. Shuebrick, M. Fuller, Wm. Schoolly, John Nichols, and THE NAVY YARD. The Navy Yard folks were not by any means behind the up town people, and it may be said that the whole ward was illuminated. It would indeed be a hard task to name all who united in the celebration, and such who may have escaped the notice of our reporters, will, we are sure, excuse us. Among those who made a handsome display in the Sixth Ward were John Costigan, A. Farrell, Mrs. Gordon, Mr. Frost, James Talbert, John Smith, Thos Bentley, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Boggs, Railroad Office, (Navy Yard gate,) Mrs. Meder, Mrs. Otterbacks, J. Slenger, Jas. Rhodes, Steel's Restaurant, (6th and L streets.) Sanderson's Tavern, opposite, S. Montgomery, N. Gadden, Capt. Thornton's Star Restaurant, Mrs. Hoden, Sergeant McDonald, Robert Coombs, M. Nash Charles Bean, Samuel Warner, F. Emmert, A. Sword, A. Bully, W. Venable, Messrs Robb, Tucker, and Burry, Mrs. Wayson, Maj Robert Clark, Frank Cole, Wm. Duvall, Henry Bright, John Bright, Samuel Armstead, Bateman, (restaurant,) Heffern, M. J. Pope (restaurant,) Crane's Union House, F. S. Waish, Henry Ober, Mrs. Queen, Mrs. Carroll, (who also had in her window the full rigged ship Union) Louis Rice's shoe store, Capt. Geo. Miller's, Joseph Martin's, Mr. Sands and Bary Whites, Lemuel Gaddis, R. Haller, J. D. O'Donnell, J. V. Schleif, Schoenborn, (restaurant,) Harford, N. H. Hilborn, (of Patent office,) Wm. Wagner, Mrs. Waters, John Castell, Jas. Boisseau, Wm. Wilkinson, Minerva House, Joseph Howard, Sergeant Hamilton, W. Hager, — Felger, G. Wilson, Wm. Corbitt, Mrs. McLean, Mrs. Bopp, Mrs. Picket, M. Holmes, W. Robinson, D. Lescallet, F. Hineline, (every pane showing two miniature flags,) Mrs. Faia, (who displayed a large picture of Lincoln,) Mrs. Noble, James Prosperi, (with Victory, Grant and Sherman,) Chas. Prosperi, W. Langley, Jas. B. Peake, Geo. Brown, — Prosperi, Sr., Ber-nard, Wm. Cook, Antonio, Sioussa, A. Jennings, Mrs. Lawrence, S. A. H. Marks, Jr., (who had a number of likenesses displayed (Who had a number of likenesses displayed with a profusion of bunting, and during the evening a number of fireworks were let off) Butler, B. McCathran, Gordon, (police) Mrs. Cross, (7th street) L. Weber, T. A. Tolson, S. A. H. Marks, Sr., (who had a large number of lanterns hung, while in the windows were the names of Grant Sharman and others). terns hung, while in the windows were the names of Grant, Sherman and others,) S. Teall, George Acherson, George R. Ruff, (with the goddess of liberty displayed,) Messrs. Mattingly, Seegar, Dr. McKim, Mahoney, Soper, Etchelberger. James Brown, W. E. Hutchinson, W. Talbot, J. W. Thompson, W. P. Brown, Mrs. Little, M. Hughes, J. H. Jones, John Simonds, Mrs. Repetti, Henry Donch, — Williams, (6th street,) Jas. Lusbey, school house on South Carolina avenue. The residence of John Hitz, at the cerner of 6th and Pennsyl. John Hitz, at the cerner of 6th and Pennsylvania avenue, made a fine appearance. In the same neighborhood the houses of Mr. Baxter, Grant, Mr. Hill, Mrs. Smith, Mr. Schroth, Mrs. Washington, Mr. French, Mrs. Sweeny, M. McCormick, George Callaghan, and Henry Isemore, Peter Mack, at the corner of the . Commerce of devision in the

avenue and 3d street east, made a fine display as well as his neighbors, Maj. Swartze, Capt. Goodwin, Mr. Allen, Mr. Benner, C. F. Zarhorst, Mr. Scott, A. Dodge, Robert Beall, Dr. McCoy, C E. Lathrop, (Naval Store Keeper,) B. Bean, McGuigar, Holzer, Rev. F. X. Boyle of St. Paters Church, W. A. Mulloy, Jas. Walling, H. R. Merryman, Daniel Shanan, P. Schaefter, bar room, south B st., N. M. Jardella McPherson's drug store, Eli Chelina, Bastennelli, 1st st. east, Meehan and Holister, south B st., Hask (restaurant,) Shea, south A street. On New Jersey avenue below the Capitol, the office of Provost Winter & Co., and residence, Mr Gilman, Colonel Gardner, D. W. Middlston, Mr. Hunt, Aldermen Gulick, Mr. Shett Dr. Ford, Mr. Barry and R. J. Meigs, General Holt, (Judge Advocate General,) Major Eli, and Mr. King were handsomely illuminated. On the north side of the Capitol the beautiful cottage of A. T. Longley presented a fine appearance and the row of houses on north A street, opposite the east park, made a handsome appearance-Whitney's restaurant, Mrs. Carter, (who had in her windows Lincoln, Sherman and Grant,) Mr. Welles, W. P. Hicks, Senator Browning, N. Sargeant, and A. E. Johnson's residences being brilliantly lighted. W. A. Franklin, B and 1st street north; Mrs. Hitz and F. Hitz, south A street; Ross' N. J. House, near the Baltimore Depot; Pabst' Turner Hall, near by; Behrend, near the west gate of the Capitol; the Capitol Saloon near by and Steuben Hall at the corner of 2d street looked finely, while Adams Express Bullding was lighted up even to the flag-staff, and Stewer displayed in gas the motto "The Union Forey-Messrs. B. S. Bohrer, Thomas E. Clarke, Dr. Davis, Captain Buden, Jas. Nokes, Krauser, of the Sixth Ward, made fine displays, and little Rose Hill was not far behind Captain Ferguson, J. B. Davis, M. E. Bright, F. Van Reswick, Craig, Richards, K. H. Lambell, and others too numerous to mention shining out.

The residence of Commodore Montgomery, he Commandant at the Navy Yard, was brilliantly lighted up and presented a dazzling appearance. The residence of Col. Zeilen, Commandant of the marine corps, was finely decorated and lighted up, and the center house of the barracks (officers quarters.) was festooned with flags and illuminated, as well as the non-commissioned officers quarters. The camp of the engineer corps, east of the Navy Yard, presented a dazzling appearance, an arch from which a number of lauterns were hung had been erected over the entrance, while a huge bonfire was kept burning in the centre of the camp.

The Masonic Lodge Room of Washington Naval Lodge, at the corner of 6th and Virginia avenue, was handsomely illuminated.
The Wallach School House, corner of 8th street east, presented a most magnificent appearance and attracted a great share of public attention. The boys attending the schools in the building assembled at an early hour, and accompanied by drums and fifes, they marched about the building hurrahing, singing patriotic songs, &c., while a merry peal was wrung from the bell.

The 8th precinct station house, on South Carolina avenue, near 6th street, was decorated and lighted up throughout, lanterns and flags were not discarded, and from the top of which floated a handsome flag. The Swiss Consulate, on A street south, displayed a handsomely inscribed

"The old Republic of the Old World greets the new Republic of the New World on the occasion of its new birth." The barracks of the Veteran Reserve Corps on Carroll Hill were brilliantly lighted up, innumerable lanterns being hung about the quarters and several bonfires being kept burning, while the men were engaged in singing

The Old Capitol and Carroll prisons, under the superintendence of Wm. P. Wood, were brilliantly lighted, and from some of the windows had appropriate mottoes displayed. The Coast Survey buildings on New Jersey avenue. were brilliantly lighted up, attracting much The Columbia Engine house, now occupied by steamer No. 3, the upper part being used by the Library Association, was tastefully decorated, the entire house wearing a national uniform with each window lighted and a lantern on the top of the flag staff. The extensive green house in the Botanical Garden, near the foot of the Capitol, were brilliantly lighted up under the superinten.

dence of W. P. Smith and from the avenue it was beautiful to look upon. The residence of Gen. Hardie, on Delaware avenue above, C street north, presented a most magnificent appearance, the front being clothed with national and corps flags, while a full complement of candles were burnt in each window. A fine band was stationed in front and during the evening discoursed music for the crowd. The Soldiers' Rest (Capt. Camp) was brilliantly lighted, and although not situated in a very desirable locality for observation, yet it attracted a full share of attention.

The principal office of the Washington and Georgetown Passenger Railway was brilliantly lighted and considerable bunting displayed. Here we may state that the company last night made much better arrangements than were made on Tuesday night last, each car being required to run until the wants of the public were fully met. It was at a very late hour before they ceased running, and in many cases parties in order to get seats would get in and go to the end of a route for the sake of return seats.

One of the most beautiful sights was the Insane Asylum over the river, and from the Capitol Hill and other commanding localities, it was one of the principal objects of attrac. tion-surpassing the previous illumination. The Arlington House, across the river, attracted much attention, and those who got a sight at it with a glass expressed great admiration, it looking then like a fairy palace.

The Capitol was lighted from the basement to the tholus of the dome, and viewed from any point, it presented a sight well worth seeing, and thousands of persons visited it during the evening. SEVENTH WARD.

The gorgeous display in the central portion of the city necessarily attracted the attention from the more distant portions and therefore scant justice is likely to be done them. The Seventh Ward gets no mention in the morning papers, and yet its illuminations were so general over the whole extent of its large territory that it was utterly impossible to begin to enumerate them.

Prof. Henry's residence, Smithsonian Building, made a most attractive appearance; Island public school house and other school buildings in the ward. We can scarce undertake to enumerate a tithe of the other points illuminated. Among those on 7th street that attracted attention were the Forage Department, 7th street wharf, Captain McConnell superintendent, Soldiers' Barracks and Quarters of Captain Vanderlip and Lieut. Keel, 14th V. R. C.; "First and Last Call Restaurant;" Mrs. Miller's Restaurant; B. P. Sitz & Bre.; Martin, barber; Powhatan Hotel; Guard Room, 7th street wharf. From this point was to be seen a magnificent view of Arlington standing out a blaze of light on its commanding height across the river. On 7th street also, Mr. P. Hare, Mr. Crosson, Mrs. C. Weeden, J. Leichengen, Jno. Thomas, "Seventh Street Restaurant," Mr. Jacobs, Wm. H. Thompson, Mr. Baldwin, Mrs. Bielaski, J. Hepburn, (near 7th,) John S. Sheets, Mr. Jarboe, W. McCauley, L. Cook, N. C. McKnew, H. Burgess, T. McCarthy, C. H. Andersor, Carl Josephs, Joseph Wall, Mr. Gard-ner, Mr. Jacobs, Thomas B. Florence, O. Bos-well, George C. Henning, R. F. Curry, Mr. Fisher, H. Nochman, Mr. Tucker, J. B. Pum-phrey, Paton & Son, C. J. Brewer, Mr. Hughes,

On Maryland avenue, Jno. H. Semmes, Rob't H. Graham. The carriage establishment of Messrs. C. H. Anderson, D. Griffin and A. J. Messrs. C. H. Anderson, D. Grimin and A. J. Williams uniquely illuminated in its various departments, blacksmith shop, wheelwright and paint shop; Mr. Pearson; G. M. Kendail, Mr. Donnelly, H. Lee, E. H. Gregory, Rev. Dr. Holmead, John R. Elvans, Messrs. Mitzell, Bond and Monahan, Mr. Holmes, Mr. Luff, Geo. Wright, R. Stewart, Pallen & Dixon Bestsavant. Turner Hall, Dr. Charles Allon Restaurant, Turner Hall, Dr. Charles Allen, Ephraim Wheeler, (with floral decorations and mottoes;) Dr. Morgan, Col. Alexander, Mrs. Neal, Mr. Reagan, C. A. Coleman, Mrs. Hendley, C. C. Mills, Mr. Clapp, John H. Bird, P. M. Pearson, L. H. Hopkins, Geo. C. Hercus. On 6th street the barracks of company I, 14th regiment V. R. C, Lieut. Keel, commanding; Mr. Ritchie, Mr. R. Harding, Potomac Market, Fletcher's Restaurant, Mess House and Office of Forage Department, Public School House, 4% street, Henry Ticer, Mr. Fox, Steamboat Restaurant, (very handsome;) Messrs. Hall, White, Fredericks, Stafford, Charles Haus, C. Ashton, Charles Mitchell, R. B. Clark, store and house magnificently illu-luminated, and with decorations of shields, wreaths, flags, &c.;) Levi Jones, H. Stroman, Geo. Tatspaugh. M street, Wm. Rady, Mr. Seibert, J. H. Buck, J. Kidwell. Four-and-a-half street, Capt. McConnell, Mr. Thayer, Mr.

Gadman. J. Granger, Mrs. Ewarts, P. Me-Ginnis, Francis Ballinger, Thayer & Son, Chas. Vernon, Thomas Mockabee. L street, A. W. Callamore. N street, Mrs. Deyle, James Marr, Mr. De Pugh. 4% street, Mrs. Street, Mrs. Street, Mrs. Street, Mr. Barnaclo, John Crowley, Thomas Coleman, L. Eckert, O. H. Dunn. G street, John Dudley, W. Berry, O. Barron, Thomas King. Mr. Schwatz, Mr. Herbert, J. Snoop, Rob't Thomasson, Jas. Cursey, Jackson Pumphrey, Mr. Whitson C. Held, Mr. Rhinehammer, J. G. Kepler, J. Kyringle, H. Charleston, L. Bacon, C. King, M. Meyenberg, Mr. Buckley, Seventh Ward Station-House, (magnificently decorated and illuminated,) Lewis Button, William Herperth, B. Nokes, M. Pepper, H. Jackson, M. Leesburg, Mr. Kneas, D. Foley, Four-and-a-half Street Restaurant, Mr. Earn, M. Cohen, Mr. McGinnis, F street, Mr. Bell, Mr. Fowler, Mr. J. Stephenson. 11th street, J. Dennison, Mrs. Lawrence. Mr. Mills, Ed. H. Hammersley, Wm. Leach, M. Juhlin. 10th street, L. Vehmyer, J. Braxton, C. Howard, Wsn. Cooper, E. Webb, M. Wheeler, C. Lubsby, E. Lycett, Mr. Galt, R. Hughes, Capt. J. H. Birch, (near 10th street,) Virginia avenue, Capt. E. A. Allen, W. Cammack. On B street, W. Yeatman, Mr. Braddock, Mr. Polkinhorn. Mr. Quins, Mr. Gibson, Dr Gray and Brothers, (very handsomely decorated and illuminated,) Mr Freeman, Dr. Donaldson, J. B. Ellis. These are but a small portion of the number of brilliant illuminations in this part of

THE COLLAPSE. While the illumination was at its beight a large number of the workmen of the Govern-ment Repair Shops headed by martial music and carrying a number of transparencies, one of which, in a wagon, represented the collapse f the Confederacy by a bursting bubble, paraed down the avenue to Capitol Hill, lustily cheering several places which were lighted NEWSPAPER OFFICES ILLUMINATED. The offices of the STAR, Intelligencer, Republican, Congressional Globe, Constitutional Union and Times were all brilliantly illuminated.

AMUSEMENTS.

GROVER'S NEW THEATER. Pennsylvania Avenue, near Willard's.

FRIDAY EVENING, April 14, The Anniversary of Sumter's Fall, the Celebra-tion of its Glorious Recapture.

The Gorgeous Play of ALADDIN; OR, THE WONDERFUL LAMP. An Original Patriotic Poem, by Major B. B. French, will be read.

The New Seng, "When Sherman Marched Down to the Sea," will be sung by Miss Effic Germon.

The music by C. Koppitz.

Grand and Brilliant Illumination and Magnificent Pyrotechnic Display.

The interior of the Theater to be festered with

The interior of the Theater to be festooned with wreaths of evergreen.

Beautiful Paneramic View of Charleston and Fort Sumter, pained by B. A. Strong. Remember GROVER'S THEATRR; To night, ALADDIN: OR, THE WONDERFUL LAMP, with all its Magnificent Surroundings.

FORD'S NEW THEATER.

TENTH STREET, above Pennsylvania Avenue.

BENEFIT and Last Appearance of

MISS LAURA KEENE.

THIS (Friday) EVENING. April 14. 1895;
When she will appear as FLORENUE TRENCHARD, in the celebrated comedy of

THE AMERICAN COUSIN,
from the original manuscript by Tom Taylor, as played at Laura Keene's Theater, New York, for upwards of three hundred nights.
She will be supported by J. C. McCOLLUM,
JOHN DYOTT, HARRY HAWK, &c.

To-morrow, Benefit of MISS JEANIE GOURLAY, when will be presented the great drama, illustrative of Southern Life, Southern Scenes, and Southern Homes, entitled THE OCTOROON,
The talented young tragedian,
BDWIN ADAMS.

Is engaged for twelve nights only, and will appear Is engaged for twelve nights only, and will appear on MONDAY, April 17.

> SEATON HALL, Ninth and D streets.

On TUESDAY EVENING, April 18, 1865, GRAND VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT, given to MONS. ALBXANDRE WOLOWSKI, Pianist and Composer, Member of the Principal Philharmonic Societies, etc., assisted by Madame L. GOMBZ DE WOLOWSKA, Prima Donna of the Italian Opera;

Miss LIZZIE KING, the Distinguished Harpist; Miss H. A. BLOOD, MISS MARY E. WHEELER. Miss SARDIUS P. SANDERSON,

MISS ESTELLA M. FORREST, Miss EVA MILLS, Miss ADELA HEYMANN, Miss HERIETTA HEYMANN, Miss NELLIE M HUTCHINSON,

Mr. P. L. McQUEBN. Mr. C.W. WALKER, Jr., Master SEYMOUR HEYMANN, Mons. ALEXANDRE WOLOWSKI, Pianist and Conductor.

The Magnificent Grand Piano Porte used on this occasion was manufactured by Steinway & Sons, and kindly loaned by W. G. Metzerott. Price of Admission One Dollar Reserved Seats Fifty Cents Extra Tickets for sale at W. G. Metzerott's Music Store, cerner Pennsylvania avenue and lith street; at John F. Ellis' Music Store, 306 Pennsylvania avenue, between 9th and loth streets, and Principal Bookstores. Reserved seats can be had only at W. G. Metzerett's Music Store, where the Disgram of the Hall can be seen.

Doors open at quarter past 7, Concert to commence at 8 o'cleck precisely.

ap 14-4t

GROVER'S THEATER. PRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 14. GRAND ILLUMINATION. DISPLAY OF PIREWORKS. The Spectacle of

ALADBIN; OR, THE WONDERFUL LAMP. Patriotic Poem by MAJOR B. B. FRENCH, to be delivered by A LADY OF WASHINGTON. EHERMAN'S MARCH TO THE SEA, (Song.)

MUSIC BY KOPPITZ. AND OTHER BYTRA ATTRACTIONS. GROVER'S THEATER. FRIDAY, APRIL 14. ap 12 3t REMEMBER FORT SUMTER!

WV C sts.—For nine nights only, commencing MONDAY, April 17, 1865, SAM SHARPLBY'S MINSTRELS, BRASS BAND AND BURLESQUE OPERA TROUPE, twenty artists; the only and original "Meniter Ironclads;" the elite of the profession, whose performances have been the from Maine to Missouri; introducing their great Original Programme, not yet "pirated" by the Migratory Mushroons of Minstrels. Admission 50 cts ; Orchestra Chairs, 75 cts.

GRAND COMBINATION CONCERT EASTER MONDAY NIGHT, APRIL 17TH, 1965, At ODD FELLOWS' HALL, 7th Street,

WASHINGTON QUINTETTE CLUB, Messrs. Dawson, Noyes, Hodgson, Tabler & Ball, FOR THE BENEFIT OF ROBERT BALL,

Mad. C. Y. Kretschmar, Sig. Strini,
Miss E. B. Turner,
Miss E. Daniel,
Mrs. Small,
Mrs. Small,
Mrs. Small,
Mrs. Small,

A choice Programme will be presented, and with the above-mentioned array of Professional and Amateur Talent, a most acceptable entertainment The two Grand Pianos used on this occasion are from the celebrated factory of Chickering & Son, and are very kindly loaned by J. F. Ellis, No. 306

Penn. avenue.

Doors open at 714 o'clock p. m., Concert to commence at 8 o'clock precisely.

TIOKETS, ONE DOLLAR; for sale at the Music stores of Ellis and Metzerott, and at the door.

ap 11-1w*

OXFORD! OXFORD! OXFORD! MUSIC HALL AND THEATRE. Ninth street, fronting on Pennsylvania avenue

THE LEADING MUSIC HALL of WASHINGTON.

THE FOUNTAIN HEAD OF TALENT.

Read the names of the Artists now performing at this establishment. First week of MESSRS. COOPER AND FIELDS,

The Celebrated Deuble Clog Dancers.
Continued Success of the following Artists:

Miss KATE PENNOYER,

Miss AGNES SUTHERLAND.

MONS. ANTONIO.

FRANK DIAMOND.

J. M. MORTIMER.

BARRY CARTER.

BARRY CARTER.

KATE HAMSON.

The MIACO BROTHERS.

Miss SUSIE BROWN,
Mr. J. C. FRANKLIN,
Miss MILLIE FRANCIS,
Miss VIRGINIA CHAIMI,
Miss MARY FRAZER,
And 28 other Performers.
MONDAY next, first appearance of M'LLE ANNETTA GALLETTI,
Priment Danseuse.

LADIES MATINES SATURDAY AFTERNOON. CITIZENS' AND MILITARY MERCHANT TAILOR.

Merepolitan Hotel, late Brown's, 362 Pennsylvania avenue, nev 1-tf

THE GLORY OF MAN IS STRENGTH.—
Therefore, the nervous and debilitated should immediately use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUOHU.

BIEDS AND CAGES, POLLER, 370 Rh street, between & and E)